Community Building Efforts*

March 31st, 2012

Mayor Zehr of Kitchener and Mayor Halloran of Waterloo invite you to celebrate the 25th Anniversary of the Mayors' Dinner. The event will also recognize The Working Centre as an example of creative community building.

The Mayors have invited Margaret and Bob Nally as Guest Hosts to narrate this event. As original Working Centre board members, The Working Centre took shape around the Nally's kitchen table. Margaret is a pastoral worker providing spiritual direction in workplaces, shelters, and churches, and serves on the boards of community organizations. Bob Nally is an accomplished eco-entrepreneur whose designs and widely acknowledged business start-up skills are behind successful local companies like RDM and Virtek. The Working Centre developed into a model of bottom up, small-scale local work committed to cooperation, and helping people to shape their tools.

For 30 years, the people of The Working Centre, modeling cooperation, have developed over 30 vital initiatives through the Job Search Resource Centre, St. John's Kitchen, Community Tools, Access to Technology, Transitional Housing and the Waterloo School for Community Development. Margaret and Bob will narrate the story behind these projects and the cooperation that is essential to involving people in building community.

All proceeds from the Mayors' Dinner go to The Working Centre and St. John's Kitchen to support people in our community who are unemployed and disadvantaged.
