FINDING OUR PLACE

Wendell Berry on the beautiful necessity of community and place

For forty years Wendell Berry has written eloquently about the need to honour the deep connections between people and their places. How do we craft responses to problems agricultural and ecological that honour these deep connections?

WEDNESDAY AUGUST 1ST 2018

7PM – 9PM | FRESH GROUND

256 KING STREET EAST | KITCHENER

Join Mary Berry from the Berry Center for a discussion about her father's work exploring the connection between land, people, and community.

This event will also be the opening of this year's Summer Institute in Grassroots Sustainability.

Fermented Thoughts is our forum for imagination thought on social, economic and ecological issues. Join us for a deep discussion over wine and snacks.

Tickets are $25 including food and drink.
